

Draintool

With this new development water can be drained from fuel tanks. It is universal and can be used on all Airbus and Boeing aircraft types. The advantage for the mechanic is fundamental because with the spring the mechanic will be dry during work and the bottle can be emptied out quickly and easily. With the fine scale on the two litre transparent bottle it is possible to read off how much water was in the fuel tank.

Customer advantages

- universal for all aircraft types
- convenient
- quick and easy to empty out
- long lifetime
